BULLETIN.

Washington, April 22.—This paraphrase of a dispatch from Vera Cruz was made public at 3 a. m., today by the navy department:

"It is reported that commandant General Maas left Vera Cruz in a carriage, that his family followed in another carriage and that he had not been heard from since. The Mexican troops were turned loose to act as they pleased, few if any officer remaining."

It is said that there is some looting, making it dangerous for natives and foreigners.

At the time of this dispatch the Mexicans are firing a 75 millimeter machine gun at corner of Collieland Morelos and Main streets.

"Mexican Colonel Cerrillo was wounded early in battle."

"It is believed the Mexican soldiers on the housetops will escape under cover of darkness and there will be no more fighting."

"A second messenger was sent to General Maas again requesting him to stop firing and prevent shelling of the town. At the time this telegram was sent the messenger had no returned."

BULLETIN.

Washington, April 22.—Rear-Admiral Fletcher reported to the navy department from Vera Cruz under date of 10 p. m., that firing still was in progress. There was no mention further casualties.

"Sniping continues from nearby houses. No additional casualties."

Admiral Fletcher announced his intention of holding the customs house, consulate and cables office tonight. Apparently he has made no effort to clear the town of Mexican soldiers or to take possession of more territory than already has been occupied. The Cruiser San Francisco had arrived in the inner harbor at 10 o'clock and the Chester was expected an hour later.

BULLETIN.

Vera Cruz, April 21.—The second section of the morning train from Mexico City filled with refugee Americans and a special train of refugees have both been held up somewhere along the road to Vera Cruz, presumably by General Maas. Telegraphic communication with Mexico City was cut tonight and it is assumed that the railroads are also cut.

There are several hundred Americans in Mexico City including the chargé d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, his wife and child.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Marines and bluejackets of the American navy today took the customs house and a large section of Vera Cruz with a loss of four killed and twenty wounded. The loss of the Mexican garrison was not officially known here tonight but was estimated at two hundred killed. This was the first step in the program by the United States against the Huerta government for the arrest of American bluejackets at Tampico, and other offenses "against the rights and dignity of the United States."

It was the first clash between forces of the United States and Mexico since revolution broke out in the Southern Republic in 1910, and gave the Washington government a Mexican problem.

May Use Big Guns.

Though fighting had not ceased at a late hour tonight, Rear-Admiral Fletcher had warned the federal commander that he would use the big guns of the American fleet if his men did not stop firing. The American forces had orders to fire only to defend themselves. The United States intends to take no offensive steps for the present. The salute to the flag which Huerta refused will not be satisfactory reparation. It is understood a declaration of apology as well as a salute and a guarantee that the respect and dignity of the United States withdrawal of the American forces. While the American marines and bluejackets were fighting the senate debated the whole Mexican situation before crowded galleries.

The joint resolution which passed the house supporting the president's proposal to use the army and navy to obtain reparation was being debated in the senate at mid-night.

Many prospects of an all night session. Many Republican senators wanted the resolution broadened to authorize reparation for all offenses committed against Americans in Mexico. The administration senators fought this as tantamount to a declaration of war, saying the United States had no quarrel with the Mexican people but with the Huerta government controlling a small portion of it.

The president, while anxious for congress to act went ahead on authority of the executive, according with the precedent, because he believed an emergency existed. He gave Rear-Admiral Fletcher authority to seize the customs house at Vera Cruz to prevent the landing there today by a German merchant vessel of a big consignment of arms and ammunition for the Huerta government.

Secretary Bryan conferred with the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff and it is believed that the influence of the German will be used to keep the consignment from being landed elsewhere in Mexico. The ship carries fifteen million rounds of ammunition and two hundred rapid fire guns and thousands of rifles.

The president was in conference with the Secretaries of War, State and Navy early tonight. No orders were issued to the army but Rear-Admiral Badger was ordered to Tampico where another customs house may be seized.

Intends to Act Slowly. Mr. Wilson intends to act slowly to force Huerta to yield and hopes to avert war.

With the taking of the railroad from a few miles inland from Vera Cruz and the two customs houses it is believed no other aggressive steps will be taken. It is admitted by many officials that the offensive action by Huerta may draw the American forces into a conflict tantamount to war. All preparation possible has been made by the army and navy. No orders have gone out to the army or the militia of the states, nor has the naval militia been called upon.

Joint plans of the army and navy were worked over at the departments during the night and the wireless, the cable and the telegraph carried scores of government orders over land and sea making preparations for all eventualities.

The national capital was thrilled with excitement. Crowds thronged the senate and listened to the debate. Newspaper bulletins were eagerly read by thousands as were also frequent extra editions. In executive quarters clerks and officers of the army and navy were busily at work all night.

Cabinet members were at their desks after midnight and the whole executive machinery of the government was adjusted to the Mexican crisis.

Mexican Loss Heavy.

Vera Cruz, April 21.—Vera Cruz tonight is in the hands of forces from the United States warships but the occupation of the port was not accomplished without loss of American lives.

Four Americans, bluejackets and marines, were killed by the fire of the Mexican soldiers and twenty fell wounded. The Mexican loss is not known but it is believed to have been heavy. The water front, the custom house and all important piers, including those under the terminal works from which extend the railroads to the capital have been occupied. All the territory around the American consulate is strongly patrolled and detachments hold other sections of the city.

The Mexican commander, General Gustavo Maas, offered a stubborn resistance to the American advance and for many hours there was fighting in the streets. Toward nightfall it was reported that the main body of the federal garrison was in retreat to the westward.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, in command of the United States warships, prefaced his occupation of the port by a demand, through the American consul, W. W. Canada, for its surrender. General Maas promptly declined to accede to this demand and shortly afterwards ten whale-boats were sent off from the side of the Transport Prairie loaded with marines. These boats effected a landing in the neighborhood of the custom house before noon and a few minutes later Captain William R. Rush of the Battleship Florida, who was in command of the operations ashore, brought his flag in.

Captain Rush's men had already taken up their positions. They numbered 150 bluejackets from the Florida, 350 marines from the Prairie and 60 marines from the Florida. Later these were augmented by a detachment from the Utah.

No Opposition in Landing.

The coming of the American forces was not heralded by any great excitement, but small crowds gathered to watch the landing. Soon the bluejackets and marines marched through the streets leading from the water front and along the railroad yards. Others proceeded to the American consulate, while others were deployed along the approaches to Central Plaza in which General Maas had concentrated his men.

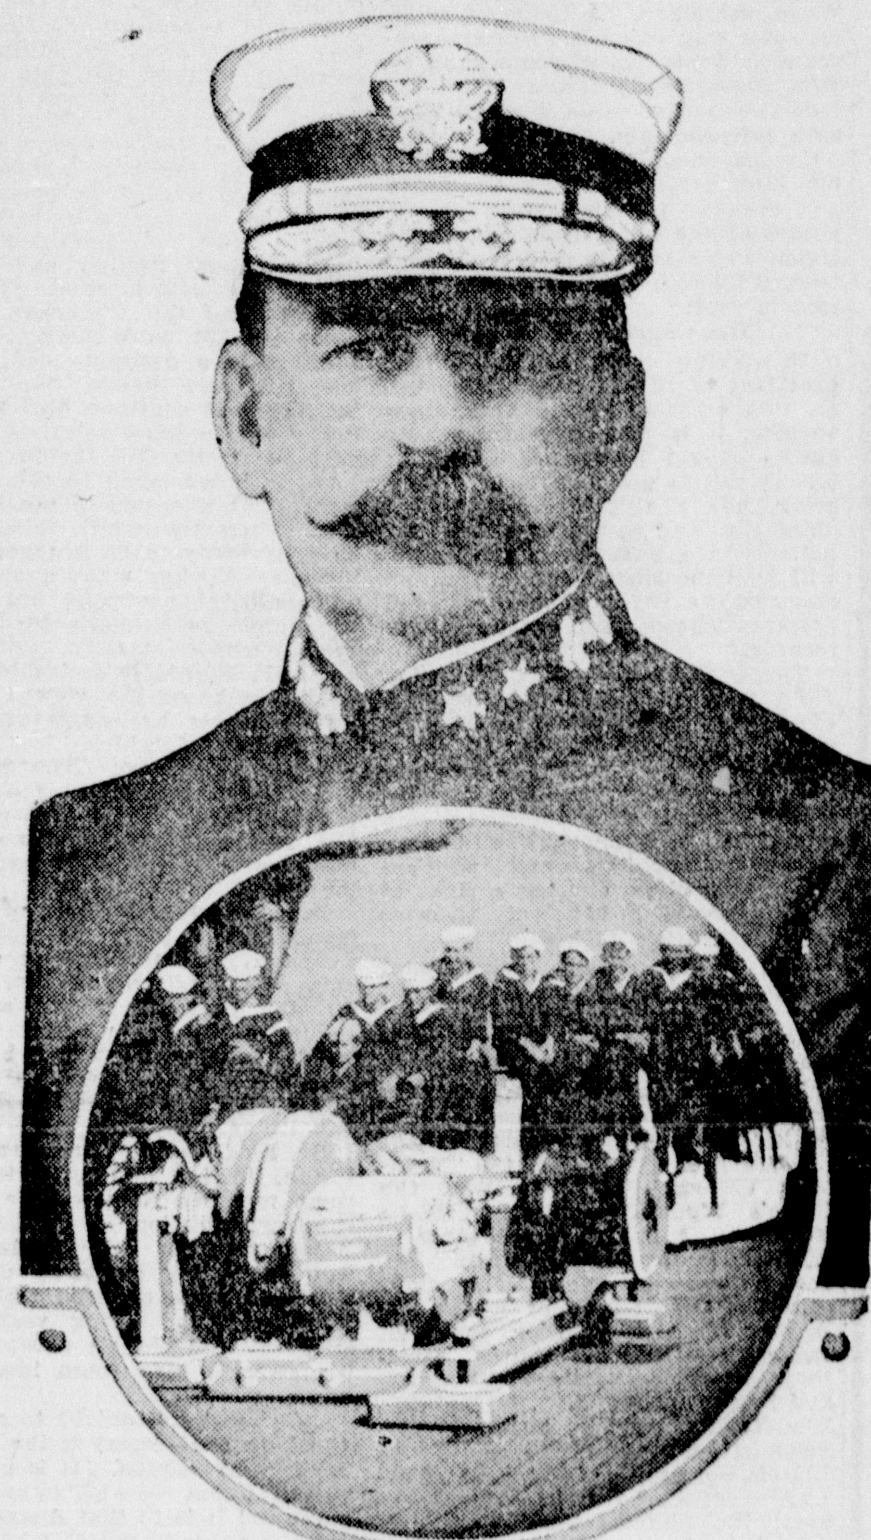

These maneuvers were effected without opposition but suddenly General Maas challenged the advance with the first shots—a volley fired from a point three blocks from the marines and two blocks south of the main plaza. The marines replied immediately, but the action ceased in a moment. There was a lull for ten minutes and then another brief exchange from the west end of Montesinos street, where a federal outpost was stationed.

At 12:30 the firing became general and at 1 o'clock the guns of the Transport Prairie went into action. Prior to this a detachment of bluejackets from the Utah, holding the ground between the consulate and the water front, opened with two of their three inch guns. The first shots from these pieces were directed against an ancient tower which once served as a lighthouse. This was occupied by Mexican sharpshooters.

Old Tower is Destroyed.

Lieutenant Commander Buchanan of the Florida, ordered that it be destroyed. Five shots brought the old Benito Juarez Tower down. The women of the American colony in Vera Cruz had already been placed aboard the chartered Steamers Esperanza and Mexico, but the foreign colony, especially the American section was greatly augmented

Photos by American Press Association.

Rear-Admiral Fletcher, who is in charge of the fleet at Vera Cruz, has warned the federal commander, General Maas that unless the firing of his men is stopped the big guns of the American vessels will be used against him. The illustration shows Fletcher and a scene on the deck of his flagship.

This morning, when three train loads arrived from the capital. Some of these remained ashore but many were taken aboard the steamers. So far as can be learned none of the refugees was injured.

The postoffice, government telegraph office and the cable office were the first buildings occupied after the customs house. A squad of marines was placed in charge of the cable office. The telegraph wires were found intact and enough Mexican operators were retained to man the lines to Mexico City.

Shoot From House Tops.

After General Maas had been driven from his position in Central Plaza, the Americans found themselves the object of fusillades from the tops of houses, where small groups of soldiers and citizens had taken up positions. It was learned only tonight that the greater part of those engaged in this resistance were civilians, who refused to accept the American occupation passively. They obtained guns and stationed themselves at points of vantage and did much to prolong the action.

Lieut. Col. Wendell C. Neville, commanded the marines from the Prairie and Majors Reid and Berkeley and Captains Hughes, Hill and Dyer along the line.

Every precaution is being taken to prevent a Mexican attack and the lines have been reinforced by a detachment which was originally in position beyond the terminal works. Toward the middle of the afternoon a large body of Mexicans evacuated their position and are now somewhere in the sand hills back in the interior, where it is reported from Mexican sources they are expecting to be joined by reinforcements sent down from the capital.

Break Up Frank Movement.

This withdrawal, however, was not entirely premeditated. Those watching on the ships observed through their glasses a large force of Mexicans moving over the hills in the western outskirts of the city apparently with the intention of flanking a battalion of marines in the railway yards and along Montesinos street, not far from the American

SENATE PASSES THE "ADMINISTRATION RESOLUTION" EARLY THIS MORNING

VOTE STANDS 72 TO 13 WHEN ACTION IS TAKEN AT 3:21 O'CLOCK AFTER HOURS OF DEBATE

Measure Declares President is Justified in Employment of Armed Forces to Enforce Demands For Unequivocal Amends for the Affronts and Indignities Committed Against the United States in Mexico—Disclaims Intention to Make War Against Mexican People.

Resolution Passed by Senate.

The substitute as adopted by the senate follows:

"In view of the facts presented by the president of the United States in his address delivered to congress in joint session on the 20th day of April, 1914, in regard to certain affronts and indignities committed against the United States in Mexico, be it,

"Resolved, That the president is justified in the employment of the armed forces of the United States to enforce his demands for unequivocal amends for the affronts and indignities committed against the United States; be it further,

"Resolved, That the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people or any purpose to make war upon them."

country leaving Mexico and "every portion of it to its own people" was voted down 44 to 39.

Measure reports of the engagement at Vera Cruz had altered in its session at 8 o'clock, the four Americans dead in Vera Cruz, the twenty wounded and the two hundred Mexicans reported killed in the taking of the city, became a text of the talk among the members and greeted with a solemn silence throughout the senate chamber, packed to suffocation.

Five Cabinet Officers Present.

As the shuttle of debate was thrown back and forth, the full quorum of the house of representatives crowded the rear of the senate hall. Secretary of State Bryan, himself often referred to in debate, Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary to the President Tamm, sat about the chamber. They listened eagerly and held whispered conversations as the discussion progressed. The diplomatic gallery was filled with members of the foreign corps, with Ambassador Spring-Rice of Great Britain at the head. As the hours dragged along and the news from Vera Cruz spread through Washington, throngs of fashionably gowned women and spectators from every walk of life packed the galleries and thronged the corridors of the senate wing of the capital.

The Republican side of the senate, led by Senator Root, demanded that the "justification" proposed in the resolution for a movement in force against Mexico, be founded not on the Tampico incident but on the long series of outrages against American citizens and their property, including the outrages in Northern Mexico where the constitutionalists are in control.

Defend Committee Resolution.

Senators Reed and James vigorously defended the committee resolution declaring that the insult to the flag at Tampico justified all that the resolution provided for. As the night wore on and senator after senator demanded an opportunity to be heard, the atmosphere in the chamber grew more and more tense. Senator Fall made a lengthy plea for a campaign that would cover the length and breadth of Mexico.

LITERARY UNION IS NOW FIFTY YEARS OLD

VERSARY WITH PROGRAM
TUESDAY NIGHT.

Members and Guests Entertained at the Crabtree Home—Prof. J. M.
Clapp Made Address on “The New Poetry.”—Officers Reviewed the Work of Fifty Years and Mentioned Names Prominent in the Organization.

The Literary Union of Jacksonville is fifty years old and the jubilee celebration was observed Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree. The program was of a seriousness and dignity in keeping with the traditions of this the Nestor of the men's literary organizations of the city. Prof. John M. Clapp of Lake Forest University gave the principal address of the occasion and remarks were made by Mr. Thomas Worthington, retiring president; Dr. David Reid, the incoming president; and Mr. W. D.
Wood, secretary. A touch of artistic color was given the literary program by the group of songs sung by Mrs. Helen Brown Read. After the formal program came a social hour
with refreshments.

In his valedictory Mr. Worthington took a look through the years
and brought to mind some of the names of the older members of the Union who served to give the organization its firm literary place. He said in part:

The Charter Members.

In making my valedictory as president of the Literary Union upon this occasion of its 50th anniversary, it is but natural that my glance should be toward the past;
but as this is not a memorial gathering, nor a suitable occasion for obituaries, and as my time and your patience are necessarily limited, it will be impossible even to mention many of the 137 members, past and present, whose names are on our records.

The Jacksonville Literary Union
(to use its full name) was organized April 21st, 1864, “to promote useful knowledge among its members and to provide for the free and impartial discussion of literary, scientific and civic questions”—to quote from its constitution. We also discuss religious and political questions and no one has a right to feel aggrieved if his pet theories or beliefs are attacked.

The person chiefly instrumental in its organization was Rev. L. M.
Glover, a charter member, for 32 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The other charter members were Judge Wm. Brown, a lawyer and banker, for many years president of the Board of Trustees of the “Methodist College”, so-called, now the Illinois Woman's College; Elisha W. Brown, a banker and brother of William Brown; Wm. Brown Jr., the eminent lawyer who recently passed away, a son of Elisha W.
Brown; Rev. R. W. Allen, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, sometimes called the “old school” church
and father of Mrs. J. C. Widenham;
Wm. Dod, a teacher, assistant professor of Latin and mathematics in Illinois college in 1877, and afterwards connected with the Athenaeum; Dr. Charles Fisher, who removed to Los Angeles and died there; Dr. P. G. Gillett, for 37 years superintendent of the School for the Deaf; Dr. H. K. Jones, the eminent physician and philosopher whom you have all known; John Loomis,
a teacher in the School for the Blind; B. F. Mitchell, principal of the Presbyterian Female Academy; Rev. T. N. Morrison, rector of Tility Episcopal church and father of Bishop T. N. Morrison; J. H. Wood,
cashier of the bank of E. W. & Wm.
Brown; and J. H. Woods, for many years a teacher and librarian at the School for the Deaf. “Professor” Woods as we called him, and Dr. Jones were the only charter members of the Union who remained in active membership after I became a member.

Thus it will be seen that the Union
began its career with 14 members, of whom 3 were ministers of the gospel, 2 lawyers, 3 physicians, 4 teachers and 2 business men,
nearly all belonging to the so-called “learned professions.”

Other Early Members.

One of the earliest of those to become a member after the organization of the Union was Mr. Stephen R. Capps, for a number of years upon its list of honorary members.
In the list of those who became members of the Union prior to 1877,
I find the names of Dr. G. V.
Black, Dr. H. W. Milligan and Mr.
E. F. Bullard, all of whom were most valued members. Dr. Black remained in active service until removed from Jacksonville and Dr.
Milligan and Mr. Bullard until taken from us by death.

Among those admitted since 1877 whom I knew (not to mention the living), I find the names of Mr.
Wm. Patterson, and Rev. J. T. Mc-Farland, both of whom added greatly to the pleasure of our meetings.
The oldest of our active members in point of membership and always an interested and interesting member, is Dr. T. J. Pinner; but evidently not the oldest in years, if we may judge by his alert carriage and active mind.

Next in point of service on the active list comes Dr. A. B. Morey, also apparently a young man in years and perhaps our most active member in useful service.

Then comes your retiring president, old in wisdom, but the youngest of all in years. The color of his moustache, I will explain, is merely evidence of his old trait and not of advancing years.
This point it becomes obvious that I continue through the list of active members and assure you that each is the youngest, I am happy to convict the president of this very respectable organization of prevarication—or at least of “juggling” with the truth of history. So, without pursuing this branch of the subject further, I will merely say, here

they are, look around you, and let each judge for himself who is the wisest, the youngest, the best looking.

At present, all the professions represented in the beginning are still found among our membership,
except that of teaching—the active members being divided as follows:
Ministers of the Gospel, 2; physicians, 4; lawyers, 4; business men, including bankers, 5; and editorial writer, 1—making 16 in active service.

Judging by the quotation from the constitution of the Union which I read at the beginning of my paper
it was organized for the sole purpose of self-culture among its members. It was an academic body and perhaps the discussion of academic questions predominated. If the public was to be reached at all, it was,
apparently, to be through the individual members of the Union. The spirit of “uplift” was not abroad
in the land then to the same extent that it is now, or it was limited chiefly to the African slave. To remedy this apparent defect in the organization and to give the general public the benefit of the investigations and arguments of the members of the Union, Dr. Milligan, its secretary, devised the plan of publishing in the city papers a resume of the proceedings. With the unique form of these reports you are probably all familiar. I believe that they served a good purpose. They permitted the public to understand what a body of intelligent men thought about literary and current topics of special interest. The “academy” and the “market place”
were brought more nearly together
—certainly a desirable end. Since Dr. Milligan's death, our secretaries have not continued this practice.
Perhaps they have not time to prepare the matter for the press; perhaps it is too much to ask of busy men. But it seems to me in these days when the word “change” is held by many to be a synonym for “progress”, when many quack social and political nostrums are fed to the public as cure-alls for the ills
from which society suffers—it would be eminently desirable for the public to know the views taken of such subjects by conservative organizations of which the Literary Union is a type. The members themselves are usually too modest to offer their intellectual wares to the public unless some newspaper man learns about them and makes inquiry.

In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to this 50th anniversary of the Literary Union. I have directed your glance toward the setting sun. Let us now look toward the rising sun. I have the pleasure of introducing to you Dr.
David Reid, the next president of the Union.

Dr. Reid, the new president of the Union, in his address referred in some measure to what the past of the organization had been but broadened his subject in such a way as to lay emphasis upon the world and life changes which have come with the flying years. The opening and closing paragraphs of his address give some idea of its tenor.

“We are here tonight to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the origin of the Literary Union. It is not 1914, but 1864 that we wish to commemorate, and it is to that distant period
that our minds revert when we recall the birthday of this organization.”

“My theme tonight is ‘Fifty Years Ago’. Fifty years. Half a century.
A year is our unit of measurement
in computing time. To most of us a century savors of eternity. Only five centuries ago very little of what we now call civilization existed. Ten centuries since the whole world was in the middle of the dark ages. So rapidly do the centuries and the years roll by, that except as we stop to think, we cannot realize how large a portion of what we call modern history has been written since 1864. Yet here we are tonight celebrate the anniversary of an organization that for half a century has kept an unbroken record week
by week of the years ere they became lost in the fathomless ocean
of eternity.”

“Fifty years ago. Men that were young when the Literary Union was born are old now. Most of us present tonight recall but little of what happened in those awful days of April, 1864.
“Fifty years ago. What is a year? We take no note of time save by its loss. As the reel is un-wound, we measure it, hour by hour, day by day, dividing the subdividing; giving to each portion a number, a name, until every century of the steadily procession reaching backward into the dim vistas of the past and forward into the unknown
mists of futurity has been named and numbered and catalogued. And not only every century, but every year, each day, each hour, each moment has been individualized to such an extent that the civilized world may look backward or forward for a hundred years, or a thousand to a single specified moment time that stands out distinct from all other moments in the whole vast eternity of duration.
“As marking one of the more important divisions of time, we celebrate tonight the 50th anniversary of the birth of the Literary Union.
Gentlemen of the Union, I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me by electing me your presiding officer. With this meeting
we begin a new year, a new half century. As incoming president I have no marked policy to announce;
no innovations to suggest. The Literary Union is a conservative body where men of diverse opinion can exchange views, and learn to understand each other. It is not necessary that every organization

be aggressively militant. The Union has never attempted to reform
society to its own way of thinking.
Diversity of opinion among members with perfect freedom in expressing the same has been the life of the Union during all these years,
and I have no reason to think it
it will be essentially different in its aims or in its workings in the years to come from what it has been in the years that have passed.”

In his report as secretary Mr.
Wood devoted some attention to the record of the past year reviewing the themes discussed and dwelling upon the address delivered a year ago by Dr. Rammelkamp. Then he referred to several members of the Union, whose presence is no more but whose influence lives on, and finally phrased the purposes of the Union. In closing he said:

The Broken Circle.

“The hope often expressed at the meeting a year ago, that we might all be present at the fiftieth anniversary was destined not to be realized. As we recall the genial dignity of the then new president, and also the years of his loyal membership,
we realize that a gracious presence has gone from us and has left ours a broken circle. (And as we miss the president of a year ago, so also we miss the historian of a decade ago,
then the only surviving member of the group of founders, and himself
now no more with us. On the occasion of the fortieth anniversary he who had given himself to this town of ours in connection with the public library drew unreservedly from the storehouse of his knowledge teaching the original company and their successors. And one who, like him, could say ‘all of which I saw, part of which I was’, had an essential part of the historical writer's equip-

SELIG TWO REEL FEATURE

“The Salvation of Nance O'Shaughnessy” A Story of the Submerged

SYNOPSIS

The game of life in cities is nerve racking and strenuous for those most advantageously situated, while for the poverty stricken who simply struggle for existence, it is fierce and frenzied—particularly perilous for youth. This play is one of the most remarkable human documents ever drawn from the shadow of a great city. It is impressive in striking situations, inspired by truth, interesting in picturesque life studies, big and masterful in its move for the betterment of the slaves of environment.

SLAKEVILLE'S FIRE BRIGADE—Essanay Western comedy.

THE DELAYED SPECIAL—Kalem, unequalled railroad drama.

WINKING WILLIE AND THE TELEPHONE CRIME—Mellies comedy—One long scream.

WHEN THE CARTRIDGE FAILED—Edison, Western story.

MONDAY, APRIL 27—PROTEA—In her wonderful mysterious lightning changes, carrying the spectator through a succession of thrills and surprises and feats of skill and daring that keeps him gasping in expectancy.—IN FIVE PARTS.

TUESDAY, APRIL 28—2ND STORY, PERILS OF PAULINE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30—reel Masterpiece service feature.—A CELEBRATED CASE—Featuring Alice Joyce and Guy Coombs

SATURDAY—THE RED SPIRITS—A story of New York underworld.

HENRY & CO. FILE BIG SUIT AGAINST STOCK YARDS CO.

Eight Commission Firms Are Also Defendants and Damages of $250,000.

East St. Louis, April 21.—Notice of a suit for $250,000 against the National Stock Yards Company at East St. Louis, Ill., against eight commission firms and twenty-seven individuals was filed at Belleville today by Charles E. Henry Sons & Company and E. E. Henry, a cattle shipper.

Only the notice of the suit was filed. One of the plaintiffs said the petition would contain allegations similar to those in the suit for $250,000 brought against the Stock Yards, the East St. Louis Live Stock Exchange and various commission firms by L. W. Burton, of St. Louis. Burton charged that the Stock Yards, the Live Stock Exchange and various commission firms were in a combination in restraint of trade.

HOW THEY ARE PRONOUNCED BY THE MEXICANS.

The pronunciation of Mexican names, which to the trouble-making man is always troublesome, assumes more than unusual interest in view of the events of the past few days. Some names, as "Tampico" and "Vera Cruz", are given a pronunciation practically correct, while "Guaymas" and "Ojinaga" are not. The "i" in Tampico is pronounced as in "machine" and the "e" in Vera Cruz is given the sound of long "ae". Guaymas is pronounced "Wy-mas" and Ojinaga, "O-hee-na-ga." Following are some of the more common Mexican names and their equivalents:

Villa—"Vee-ah", with the "i" as in French.

Huerta—"Whe-ta", with the "e" short as in "jet". Chihuahua—"Shi-wa-wa", the "a" being sounded as in "arm". Juarez—"Whaur-oz", with accent on the first syllable and the "e" short.

Oroco—"O-roz-co". The "o" is long in the first and third syllables and short in the second.

IS YOUNGEST SUPERINTENDENT

Word has been received by friends in Jacksonville of the appointment of G. K. Hutchens of Hillview to the position of superintendent of schools of Greene county to take the place made vacant by George B. McClelland who died several weeks ago. As Mr. Hutchens is but twenty-six years old it is probable that he is the youngest county superintendent in the state.

Mr. Hutchens is a native of Carrollton and has had charge of the high school at Hillview. He is a young man of energy and ability and will receive the congratulations of a large number of friends.

ment that would have enriched this anniversary occasion. There has been but one real secretary—the loyal soul who made the Literary Union famous. How sorely we need him tonight to interpret the spirit and the aims of which he was exponent and exemplar. His interpretation would be both history and literature.

For our thought cannot but turn at this hour to that evening of April 21, 1864, which marked the beginning of the society now come to its jubilee year. In point of time it was after Lincoln's Gettysburg address and before his second inaugural, while the most momentous conflict of modern times was still being fought out. It was sought to establish an association, to quote from the constitution "to promote useful knowledge among its members, and to provide for the free and impartial discussion of literary, scientific and civic questions." Plodged at the beginning to fair, free and full discussion, it still adheres to the principle and seeks to exemplify its permanent value. In a group whose members represent all shades of opinion, and wide diversity of interest, toleration and mutual respect must abide. That this group has met from week to week and year to year for so long a period attests the tolerant temper and spirit. And while we who are its beneficiaries contemplate with satisfaction the history that has been fifty years in making, we would be ungrateful if we were unmindful of the responsibilities thus imposed. Friendly intercourse, the clash of opinion, the joy of combat, the associations that increase in strength and tenderness as the years increase, and all the unwritten, forgotten things that attach us to the Union, accentuate our indebtedness to the memories of the years crowd up us. But the obligation of over shadowing importance is that which requires those of us who are sharers of this rich inheritance to conserve and increase it, so that those who celebrate the one hundredth anniversary may be witnesses and sharers of its still wider and wiser influence.

Members of the Union and their guests counted themselves fortunate in the presence of Mrs. Helen Brown Read and all found pleasure in her group of songs. They were "Oh Lovely Celia", "Dearest I Bring Thee Daffodils", "Oh Lovely Night" and as an encore "A Perfect Day". The selections were of such range in character as to give convincing proof of the magnificent quality and volume of Mrs. Read's voice. There was perfect sympathy of performance between the soloist and her accompanist, Mrs. Helen Ayers Bulard.

In presenting Mr. Clapp to the company Dr. Reid said it was really presumptuous to introduce one who had been for so many years a Jacksonville resident and who through nearly twenty years' absence has maintained many warm friendships here. Mr. Clapp is a professor of English in Lake Forest university. He is a graduate of Amherst; and supplemented his training there by years of research work in English language and literature and today is accounted an authority in the work in which he has specialized. Prof. Clapp's extended address last night was on "The New Poetry", in which he combated the idea that the poetry of recent years does not measure up with the work of writers of verse of twenty, thirty and fifty years ago. To sustain his argument he quoted from the writings of present day poets and the whole line of study was such as to give to most of his auditors a new vision as to the present day world of poetry.

A social hour followed Mr. Clapp's address and the occasion as a whole was one of pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Clapp, who came from Lake Forest for the anniversary meeting, returned on the early morning train.

WOMEN LOSE OUT IN FRANKLIN VOTE

INDEPENDENT TICKET WINS IN EXCITING ELECTION.

Woodson Election Probably Will End in Contest as Result of Voters Pasting Names on Ballot—Elections at Murrayville and Meredosia—Arenaville Votes "Dry" and Danville "Wet."

The election at Franklin was an exciting and enthusiastic one and resulted in the success of the Independent ticket. The Citizens' ticket, which was composed of women and feared by both the Democrats and Independents fell considerably behind when the votes were counted, the president, Mrs. Sallie Wyatt, receiving only 19 votes. The women received a smaller number of votes than they did at the primary.

The presence of the Independent ticket was the outgrowth of the nomination of the Citizens' ticket. The women were not aware that they were being nominated until after it was all over. A few days before election they sent in their resignations, but the time had gone too long so that they had to remain on. When they learned of this fact they did some electioneering and in fact all parties got busy yesterday and automobiles and other means of conveyance were used to get out a vote. 150 women voted. It was only necessary to throw out two tickets in the entire vote.

How the women voted can be learned from the fact that 82 voted for H. M. Tulpin, 63 for W. J. Woods, the Democratic candidate for president, and 12 for Mrs. Sallie Wyatt. Three more votes were given by the men for H. M. Tulpin over W. J. Woods. The full vote follows:

Woodson Election.

A contest seems on at Woodson as the result of the election held there Tuesday. The Citizens' ticket was made a blank, with places in it to write the names, resulted in the election of three trustees on that ticket over the Peoples' ticket. Those who voted for the trustees on the Citizens' ticket were handed a slip before they reached the polls on which were the names of three trustees. These slips were pasted on the blanks by the voters and those who claim it was illegal stated last night that the names should be written on the ballot. When it became known that such was being done the supporters of the Peoples' ticket got busy and for a while the votes were numerous. 45 women voted all together. The judges of the election were Charles Wild, Henry Shelton, James Shelton and Robert Crone. The vote was as follows:

Arenaville Dry by Eight Votes.

Arenaville was voted dry Tuesday by the women, their vote being almost 2 to 1 dry. The dry vote was,

Manchester.

By reason mainly of the political activity of the women, the election in Manchester resulted in the election of the Peoples' ticket. The election was called for the selection of three aldermen and a city clerk. Charles Thady and Mrs. Ella Watt were elected aldermen and Mrs. Ella Goodall and Frank Lakin tied. George Leighton is the new city clerk.

Election at Meredosia.

The majority of the women who participated in the Meredosia election Tuesday lined up on the Citizens' ticket and elected L. F. Berger by a majority of 2 votes over his opponent Edward T. Geiss, the Progressive candidate. It will be remembered that just a year ago, Mr. Berger's brother, John Berger, was elected president of Meredosia village by a majority of 1 vote. The Progressive ticket received the majority of men's votes and it was pointed out by some at Meredosia Tuesday that, as the men had voted the town dry, the Progressive was the dry ticket. The vote follows:

Danville Remains Wet.

Danville, Ill., April 21.—Danville remains in the "wet" column, the local option proposition being defeated by 181 votes here today. By 10 a. m., over half of the votes had been cast.

Although the balance of the day witnessed but little congestion at the polls the total vote fell about two thousand short of the total registration.

Unofficial figures show that the wets cast 7,228 votes and the dries 7,047, the closeness of the result veiling a surprise to both sides, each having claimed the election by 1,000 or more.

Although the people were wrought up to a high pitch of excitement by the heated campaign, there were but few disturbances at the polls. An encounter between Joseph H. Barnhart, a member of the city election commission, and "Red" Unger, city inspector of weights and measures and an ardent "wet" resulted in the commissioner receiving a broken finger.

Women were an important factor in the election, but the figures concerning how they voted are not available tonight.

We Keep Your Suit New!

The man who does not have his clothes dry cleaned and pressed frequently, does not get the full wear out of them.

Long before the clothes are worn out the lapels droop over, the coat front breaks, the sleeves wrinkle and pull out at the elbow, the trousers become baggy and lose their shape at the bottom, and the entire suit looks old and disreputable.

Our service keeps them clean and fresh, keeps them shaped right and fitting perfectly until they wear out. It's not only an aid to good dressing—but a real economy, as well.

Take advantage of it frequently.

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadful rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. — Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

FLY SWATTING AND ITS RELATION TO CLEAN-UP WEEK

Advice From the Medical Committee of the Clean-Up Week Campaign Association.

Nothing is of so great importance to the individual as his health, and nothing is so important to health as a clean body and clean home surroundings.

Why Should We Clean Up?
Why are we so much interested in cleaning up our city, cleaning up our yards and back lots, cleaning up our houses and cellars? It is not simply because these things look unsightly, but because they are among the great sources of disease. This statement may surprise the average citizen but the proof of it lies in the fact that the common house fly is the greatest carrier of disease that we have, and manure piles, rubbish heaps, cesspools and other unsanitary spots about our premises are the breeding places of the fly. Such spots are also the breeding places of other disease distributing insects and germs but no other one is equal to the fly.

MUSCA DOMESTICA
THE COMMON FLY
THE UNSPEAKABLE FLY
THE TYPHOID FLY
For this reason your medical committee would respectfully call the attention of every citizen to the desirability of destroying every spot and thing which may become a breeding place for the house fly.

Every doctor should be a leader and every citizen a worker in this campaign for "the extermination of the pesky varmint." This campaign should begin now, because every fly you kill at this season of the year means millions fewer flies in August. The fly is one of the most prolific insects.

What is "Fly Swatting"?
"Do you know what is meant by fly swatting?" It means anything that will kill a fly, or better, which will kill a large number of flies. Fly paper and fly traps are good swatters because they work while you rest, but the greatest fly swatting campaign is to haul off the manure, close up open vaults, and keep your garbage can clean and always covered.

Doctor, Set an Example!
We earnestly urge every doctor in the community to set an example to his neighbors and we urge every citizen to start in on a crusade, which if energetically and scientifically carried out, will be a benefit to the health of our people and a step forward in the conservation of human life.

Flies and Animals.
The fly is the common carrier of the sores and diseases of animals and the man who has no flies about his animals or does not permit cuts and sores on his animals to be visited by flies will have a great deal less trouble with sore shoulders and backs, as well as the more serious infections. Dr. S. T. Darling of the causal zone showed by numerous conclusive experiments that flies were the common carriers in such diseases in horses and mules and that by protecting the animals from flies these infections were abolished.

Finally, we ask you to carefully consider the following "Fly Catechism" quoted from World's Work. Every man, woman and child should know this catechism by heart and do what it says every time he thinks of his kitchen or his pile. We venture to repeat this catechism which has already appeared in these columns but which cannot be read too often.

The Fly Catechism.

1. Where is the fly born? In manure and filth.

2. Where does the fly live? In every kind of filth.

3. Is anything too filthy for the fly? No.

4. Where does he go when he leaves the vault and manure pile and the spittoon? In the kitchen and dining room.

5. What does he do there? He walks on the bread, fruit, and vegetables; he wipes his feet on the butter and bathes in the buttermilk.

6. Does the fly visit the patient sick with consumption, typhoid fever, and summer complaint? He does—and may call on you next.

7. Is the fly dangerous? He is man's worst pest and more dangerous than wild beast or rattlesnake.

8. What disease does the fly carry? He carries typhoid fever, tuberculosis and summer complaint.

9. How? On his wings and hairy feet.

10. What is his correct name? Typhoid fly.

11. How shall we kill the fly? Destroy all filth about the house and yard; pour lime into the vault and on the manure; kill the fly with a wire screen paddle, or stick paper or kerosene oil.

12. Kill the fly in any way, but kill the fly.

Other Common Carriers of Disease.
While you are protecting yourself against the fly don't imagine that he is the only carrier of disease that breeds and multiplies in the filth of your yards, cellars and stable lots. Mosquitoes, ants, mice and rats are all frequent carriers of disease and all seek stagnant water, the swill barrel, the rubbish heap and manure pile.

GREETING TO PASTOR.

The following poem was written in honor of Dr. J. W. Miller, pastor of Grace M. E. church, by Mrs. Martha Capps Oliver and read Thursday night on the occasion of the Easter annual family gathering of Grace Methodist church.

A greeting we would give thee, pastor ours,
Who in thy pilgrimage to Emmaus,
Hast walked with One whom we would better know,
Whom we would fain have closer walk with us;

Lest, as our stumbling footsteps onward go,
Heedless, alas! sometimes of His divine command,
Our gaze may wander from the narrow way,
Lured by the shine of worthless pebbles in the sand.

Yea, those whose hearts within them burn and glow
(With wondrous things which Christ to them hath said,
Are sent to guide us to the upper courts
Through all the mazes of the path we tread;

For O, sometimes the clouds hang low and dark,
The ways, that up-hill winds is rough and steep,
And each soul passes through its own Gethsemane
Where, prone in anguish, it must watch and weep.

And sometimes there are dragons in the way
And fierce Apollyon, face to face we meet;
Tell us again, and yet again, what shield to wear,
What winged sandals on our dragging feet;

Pastor, still lead us ever on and on Until we rest within the sacred hush
Where, in the spirit's silences, we hear
God's voice within the burning bush.

What one is held in reverence As is the faithful minister?
To him all doors swing open wide,
In grief or joy he lends his cheer
To smile with those that smile, to weep
With sorrowing ones whose tears must fall.

The man of God goes on his way
And ministers to one and all.
But while his lips drop words of grace,
Or breathe a fervent blessing low
The tension of his o'er wrought soul
Ah, who of us can ever know?

The sympathetic heart is strained
Until the chords might also break
Did not a tender touch divine
Bring strength and healing in its wake.

Do any think what need is his (What need of sympathy and cheer
That sometimes, when his words drop balm,
His own heart aches—his skies are drear?

Give him your friendship and support,
Give him your trusty, good right hand
In pledge of fellowship and love;
Your loyalty let him command.

Here by his side, a help-mate true,
With tender heart and woman's soul
We recognize that other self
Swift to encourage and console;

To win all hearts by gentle arts,
To make of earth a sunny place,
Ah, this is love and service too,
A mission high of help and grace.

"He knows Christ best who helps men most!"
So sang a poet long ago
Who told of white deeds thickly dropped,
Which drifted as a mount of snow
Until it reached so high that he Who stood there heard through arches dim

The notes come swelling, faint and sweet,
Of Heaven's Eucharistic hymn.
So should our deeds of helpful love,
Our brave and trustful moods
Lift us above earth's din and fret
To heavenly altitudes;

So should we hear, in spirit sense,
The song which swells and rolls
As floating downward still it comes Borne from the place of souls.

Within this sanctuary fair
May Christian graces bloom
And in love's own pure atmosphere
Pur forth their rich perfume;
No selfish motives or unworthy pride
Make intercessions vain,
But round our altar may each heart grow warm,
And here be found a healing balm for pain.

And now as in this good brave year
Time's clean and spotless page unrolls
All glorious be its history—
Recording birth of happy souls;
To Neb's heights may we be led,
To mysteries unseen, divine,
Until each heart interprets well
The secret of the mystic sign!

A MUSICAL VISITOR.

Miss Lydia Sargent Reaick, graduate N. E. Conservatory, musician of the Eleanor clubs of Chicago, arrived in the city yesterday morning for a visit with the family of her cousin, George W. Sargent, 412 South East street, and her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Sargent, of "Fair View" and Mrs. Helen Sargent Cleary of the "Maples" west of the city.

Miss Reaick's mother, Amanda Sargent, was one of the early graduates of the Woman's College and teacher of Morgan county. She will be remembered by pupils of that date. Miss Reaick says, the beauties of our city, so often portrayed to her by her mother, cannot compare with the actual sight—inspiration for composition.

REPUBLICANS GATHER FOR INDIANA CONVENTION

Large Company of Party Workers —Many of the Old Leaders Present.

Indianapolis, April 20.—That the spirit of hope and confidence again animates the breasts of the Republicans of Indiana was indicated by the display of enthusiasm among the party workers who gathered here in large numbers today in readiness for the state convention. Many of the old leaders who have taken little active interest in the affairs of the party for several years were to be seen about the headquarters at the Hotel Severin.

The convention will hold its sessions in Tomlinson hall, beginning tomorrow and continuing over Thursday. The program has been arranged with a view to reviving the old time enthusiasm among the rank and file of the party. The action of the Progressives in putting their own ticket in the next precludes the possibilities of the two parties getting together in the coming campaign. Nevertheless the Republicans have let it be known that any of the former members who desire to return to the party fold will find a cordial welcome awaiting them.

The proceedings tomorrow will partake largely of the nature of a rally, the real business of the convention being left until the concluding day. At the opening session the principal address will be delivered by William A. Prendergast of New York. Mr. Prendergast was one of the founders of the Progressive party and made the speech placing Theodore Roosevelt in nomination for the presidency at the Chicago convention in 1912. Last November he withdrew from the Progressive party and renewed his affiliation with the Republicans.

The convention will nominate candidates for United States senator and for all state officers, with the exception of governor and lieutenant governor. There are several candidates in the field for nomination to run against Senator Benjamin F. Shively, who has been renominated on the Democratic ticket. Among those whose names are most prominently mentioned in connection with the senatorial nomination are Addison C. Harris of Indianapolis, former United States minister to Austria; W. L. Taylor, former attorney general; Hugh Miller of Columbus, former lieutenant governor of the state; Frank A. Ball, a wealthy manufacturer of Muncie, and Edgar D. Crampacker of Valparaiso, for more than fifteen years a representative in congress from the Tenth district.

KENTUCKY CLUBWOMEN MEET.

Louisville, April 21.—An army of clubwomen recruited from every section of Kentucky, invaded Louisville today and will remain in possession of the city until the end of the week. The occasion of the gathering is the 20th annual convention of the State Federation. All signs point to one of the most successful as well as the largest convention ever held by the organization. Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, is to be present as the guest of honor. The business sessions of the convention are to be held in the auditorium of the Seelbach hotel, and will be interspersed with a number of features of social entertainments prepared by the local clubs.

YOUTH TO ANSWER FOR "FATAL JOY RIDE."

Chicago, April 21.—A two days' joy ride across northern Illinois, with frequent stops at wayside inns, brought young Raymond Harrison into court today to stand trial on a charge of being responsible for the death of 17-year-old Marjorie Chauncey. Harrison and the girl were companions on the automobile trip, which ended when Miss Chauncey took a fatal dose of mercury. Before she died in the Chicago hospital the girl is alleged to have said she took the poison on a dare from her companion. Both Harrison and the victim of the tragedy belonged to respectable families residing on the South Side.

The Early Fly

By WALT MASON.

The early fly is here; you see him buzzing near; so take your stand with club in hand, and soak him in the ear. The early flies are worst of all the breed accused; for they'll give rise to countless flies which cannot be dispersed. One active April fly, unless you make it die, will bring a slew, your meat to chew, and spoil the milk and pie. So, like the Maid of Arc, arise in helm and sark, and swat the flies between the eyes, from daylight until dark.

Thus serve your native land, a swatter in your hand, and then your name in Hall of Fame, on sculptured stone will stand. There is no better plan to help your fellow man; a peril dies with dying flies, so swat them while you can. Just so you kill the brutes, the method little boots; one takes an axe and breaks their backs, one takes his gun and shoots. I know one earnest gink who drowns his flies in ink; some fellows boil their flies in oil—a first rate scheme, I think. But any plan will do, just so you kill a few, each passing day, so slay and slay, with purpose high and true.

Note that Reo the Fifth—Mr. Olds' great car—sells at a new price this year. We have saved you 16 per cent on the car, equipped.

Some parts—like tires and electric starter—cost us less this year. But most of this saving comes from the fact that all special machinery for building this model has been charged against previous output.

And note that this car—at $220 less—has

The Car That Stays New

Nobody doubts that Reo the Fifth is the best-built car in its class. It embodies all Mr. Olds' extremes, based on 27 years of car building. It takes six weeks to build each car, because of the utter exactness, the countless tests and inspections.

The steel is twice analyzed. The gears are tested for 75,000 pounds per tooth, the springs for 100,000 vibrations.

The car has 15 roller bearings, 190 drop forgings. It has a costly clutch which prohibits all gear clashing. It has the simplest gear-shift in the world.

All driving parts are built one-half stronger than necessary—built to meet the requirements of a 50-horsepower engine.

10,000-MILE TESTS.

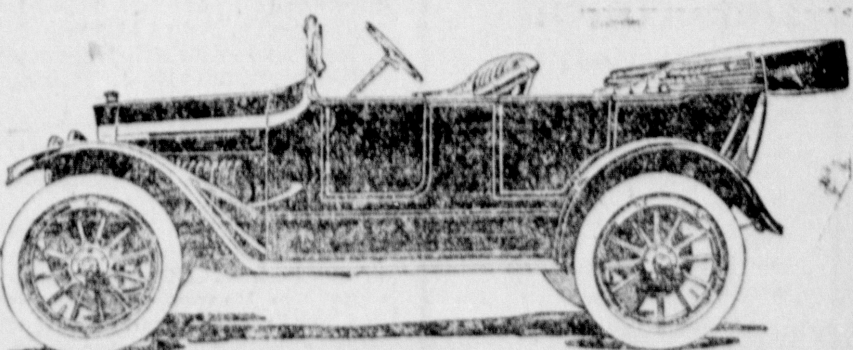

Test cars with this chassis have for years been kept running at high speed night and day on rough roads. After 10,000 miles of reckless driving the test car is taken apart, and every driving part is required to show up in almost perfect condition.

No other modest-price car has ever been built in this slow, careful, costly way. But the result is a car that stays new. It saves the average user hundreds of dollars in troubles, repairs and upkeep.

Men who know are buying cars like this. The spring demand is always twice the factory output. March sales have broken every record.

We urge men who may want this honest car to come and see it now.

It was the New York's first victory. They batted both Reulbach and Allen hard in timely fashion.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NOTWITHSTANDING MEXICAN CRISIS MARKET MAKES ADVANCE

Technical Conditions Have Stronger Influence Over Market Than the Mexican News.

New York, April 21.—Notwithstanding the depressing influence of the Mexican crisis the stock market advanced today. Technical conditions proved to have a stronger influence than the Mexican news. It was apparent that the steady selling on the decline of the past week had brought about an oversold condition.

It was asserted by some brokers that in proportion to the amount of business there was a good market.

The street was as greatly absorbed in Mexican news as it was yesterday and speculators were on edge all day awaiting some developments of sufficient importance to exert a decided influence on the market. Up to the time of the closing however, such news had been received and although Washington advised that the situation a still graver aspect comparatively little influence was exerted by this factor.

DAVIS SWITCH.

Miss Mollie M. Davis of Panola is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Davis, and family, south of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. John Casey and Mrs. Williams of Jacksonville were Sunday visitors at the home of J. H. Devore.

Mrs. J. H. Davis has over a hundred little chickens; all doing fine. The election at the Rount school went off very quietly Saturday and resulted in the election of two directors, Charles Lewis filling the place for 1 year, John Cain retiring. John Castello was elected for the term of three years. John Leech and John Cain go out, after serving as directors for ever ten years.

Isaac Watson was a visitor in the city Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Sheppard and daughter, Mrs. James, were Saturday shoppers in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis entertained a number of their friends Sunday at an elaborate dinner. After dinner a social time was had, with music and singing. At a late hour all departed for their homes with many good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Lewis in their new home.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wolfe and daughters, Irene and Leona, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds, Miss Jessie Harding and Miss Minnie Sooy of Murrayville, and Mr. Herbert Lumden of Jacksonville.

The P. B. class of the Presbyterian church of Woodson met with Mrs. J. H. Devore on last Thursday afternoon. About 15 were present and a very pleasing program was given. Refreshments were served.

Doc Butler was severely injured last Friday as a result of his team of mules running away, throwing him under the wagon and running over his body in such a way as to break two ribs. Miss Winnie Kingsley was the first to see the accident and she called Dr. Jones, who made the mile trip in about three minutes. Mr. Butler was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Devore, and is doing as well as expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGinnis were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Barnhart.

DECREASING WORLD RESERVES
INFLUENCES PRICE OF WHEAT

Complaints of Dry Weather Tended Further to Keep Wheat Market Firm Any Set Back.

Chicago, April 21.—Rapidly decreasing world reserves had a good deal to do to day with inspiring more friendliness for the buying side of wheat. Accordingly the market closed firm at 1/2 to 3/4 @ 1/2 net advance. Corn wound up 1/2 to 1/4 @ 1/2 above last night; oats with a gain of 1/4 @ 1/2 to 1/2 and provisions irregular, varying from 5c off to a rise of 25c.

Complaints of dry weather along the western edge of the winter crop belt tended further to keep the wheat market from any important setback.

It looked as if liquidating sales of corn had for the time being reached an end. The west and southwest reported greatly improved demand from feeding sections and some of the larger shorts here evinced considerable interest to cover on all weak spots in the market. Cash dealers in Chicago said they were receiving good orders for immediate loading to fill in gaps east before the bulk of the Argentine new crop would arrive. Nevertheless the May delivery here decisively lost its premium over deferred deliveries. In the oats crowd cash houses were conspicuous buyers, presumably removing hedges on spot oats sold over night to go east.

Provisions broke sharply as a result of continued unloading on the part of encouraged long who had to contend with a decline in the price of hogs. Packers, however, finally came to the support of the market and caused a rally, especially in pork.

The Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign

Is fast becoming a "Nation Wide Movement," and rightly too, for it "Promotes Cleanliness, Thrift and Civic Pride" without which no community can hope to prosper, as we spend the greater portion of our lives in our homes they should be made as attractive as possible. The humble cottage when well painted, with lawn properly cared for and surroundings clean and neat, is as attractive and more homelike than the mansion.

One Hundred Million Dollars Lost Every Year Through Lack of Painting

A lot of money to be wasted, yet this is a conservative estimate of the sum that is lost in this country every year, due to pure carelessness and neglect.

Our Enormous Paint Stock

Is at your command and we shall aim to meet your every wish—it matters not whether you want 50c worth of Water Paint for your back fence or $50 worth of Paint for you house and barn, our service shall be just as efficient in either case.

Every gallon of paint, every barrel of oil, every pound of lead or material and every brush in our stock is the best that money and brains can produce. Not how cheap but how good is the only policy to follow for the seller and user.

Really Good Paint Costs Nothing

Because it adds more value than it costs. A house well painted and attractive will sell for much more than an unpainted dilapidated building.

Dig the Garden, Sow the Lawn
Do It Now—Hours Count

If garden making begins with sowing Landreth's seeds and soil, temperature and planting conditions are right you are sure of success.

Every home should have a well kept lawn and a good garden. There is nothing like fresh vegetables right out your own garden, and the little time and money you spend on a garden will yield big returns in health, happiness and good things to eat.

Our big stock of fresh bulk garden and grass seed is complete—just call or 'phone.

Garden Tools and Plows

We have about everything you could think of even a line of Jersey Truck Gardeners Hoes. We will name just a few items—Garden Hoes, Rakes, Spading Forks, Spades, Garden Tool Sets, both small and large.

Don't fail to see our Spading Fork for Ladies and boys. Our Favorite Garden Plow is the best.

Are Your Glasses Becoming?

You don't want awkward "all eyeglasses" looking glasses.

We have made a study of facial characteristics, and select the size, style and shape of eyeglasses most becoming to the face of the wearer. There is a "knack and know how" about proper eyeglass fitting and adjusting, that we have long ago discovered.

With the glasses we make, you look well from either side.

STOMACH SUFFERERS!

READ THIS

So many stomach sufferers have been benefited by a simple prescription of vegetable oils which cured a Chicago druggist of chronic stomach liver and intestinal trouble of years' standing that we want you surely to try this remedy. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. One dose will convince you. It usually gives wonderful relief within 24 hours—even in the most stubborn cases. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by Armstrong's Drug Store.—Adv.

HYOMEI RELIEVES

IN FIVE MINUTES

You Breathe It.

If your head is all stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, you suffer with dull headaches and seem lacking in vitality, or are constantly sniffing and coughing, you need a remedy that will give the quickest, most effective and lasting relief possible—something that will go right to the spot, clear the head and throat and end your misery.

Simply use Hyomei—all druggists sell it. It is just a remedy, and is entirely harmless and pleasant to use—use it—no stomach dosing.

The antiseptic oils of Hyomei mix with the air you breathe—its health-giving medication immediately reaches the sore and inflamed mucous membrane—you feel better in five minutes. It is practically impossible to use Hyomei and not only be relieved but permanently benefitted. Your money refunded if you are not satisfied. Ask for the complete outfit—$1.00 size.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR

FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls. Try It! Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once—No More Falling Hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scalp robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fash, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—Adv.

MARKET LETTERS.

Chicago Live Stock Market.
Chicago, April 20.—Oliver S.
Green, with Walter Bros., U. S. yards, Chicago, reports the estimated receipts for Monday, April 20:

Cattle—25,000.
Hogs—32,000.
Sheep—23,000.

At least 5,000 cattle too many for the demand and a down turn in prices of from 10 to 20c and spots 25c lower. The six leading markets increased the supply 9,400 over last Monday. But few found a market until around the noon hour. The demand from shippers was very moderate and early in the market
session the ones that met with a sale were those that "just suited"

special orders. The 9c and above class rarely got bids and no life to the trade. A few trades went at $9.25 and above. The top was $9.40 for prime heaves averaging
1,465 and 1,480, and fully as choice
as the $9.55 ones last week; 14
yearlings averaging 1,042 and 37 averaging 1,525 at $9.35. Less than 25 car loads made $9c and above. The range on medium to good light weights $8.10 to $8.40.
A spread from $8.50 to $9.00 for bulk choice handy to heavy heaves.
A large number of pretty decent warmed up kinds $7.50 to $8.00,
with roughishsteers down to $7.40
and below, where the quality was lacking to secure feeder competition. She stock sold at very uneven prices and bulk landed 10 to 15c lower. Choice yearling heifers alone escaping the slump and medium classes hit the hardest. Demand good for bulls at firm prices. Calves generally 25c lower. Dealers made a good clearance last week of stockers and feeders and that market fairly active at firm prices. Fat cattle quotations:

Choice to prime heavy heaves,
$9.10 to $9.50.
Good to prime yearlings, $8.60 to $9.35.
Common to fair yearlings, $7.6
to $8.50.
Good to choice corn feds, $8.50
to $9.00.
Medium to good steers, $7.90 to $8.40.
Plain to medium "warmed up"
$7.60 to $7.85.
Common to plain steers, $7.20 to $7.50.
Inferior to rough steers, $6.85 to $7.25.
Fat cows, $5.00 to $7.65.
Heifers, $6.60 to $8.40.
Bulls, $5.00 to $7.20.

Experienced Women
Advise Mother's Friend

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this most happy period, advise the use of "Mother's Friend."

Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to so lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon this myriad of nerves. It is a reflex action.

Applied to the breasts it affords the proper massage to prevent caking. Thousands of women have reason to believe in this splendid help under the trying ordeal of motherhood. Their letters are eloquent evidence of its great value to women. In use for many years it has come to be a standard remedy for the purpose.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try this splendid assistant to ease, comfort and safety.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared by Bradford Regulator Co., 210 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for our little book. It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

How "TIZ" Eases Sore, Swollen, Sweaty, Calloused Feet and Corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-cracked, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ". Its grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothink like "TIZ". It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet feel; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

SCALP TROUBLE FOR OVER TEN YEARS

Small Bunches on Scalp. Itched, Formed Scale. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Months.

268 Harrison St., Elyria, Ohio.—"My case was a scalp trouble. I first noticed small bunches on my scalp which commenced to itch and I would scratch them and in time they got larger, forming a scale or scab with a little pus, and chunks of hair would come out when I would scratch them off. It caused me to lose most of my hair. It became thin and dry and lifeless. I was troubled for over ten years with it until it got so bad I was ashamed to go to a barber to get my hair cut."

"I tried everything I could get hold of, and ———, but received no cure until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment when the scale commenced to disappear. The way I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to wash my scalp twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap and rub on the Cuticura Ointment. I received benefit in a couple of weeks and was cured in two months." (Signed) F. J. Busher, Jan. 28, 1913.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

COUNCIL WILL PURCHASE NEW LIGHT PLANT BOILER

Purchase of Fire Truck is Postponed in Order to Have Funds Available For Additional Power Equipment.

At the special meeting of the city council Tuesday morning a decision was reached to postpone the purchase of an auto fire truck and instead use the city's credit in buying a much-needed additional boiler for the municipal light plant. Mr. Brennan was authorized to prepare plans and specifications and bids will be asked soon. As soon as the council had been called to order Mr. Brennan reported that the inspector who had given the boilers a thorough examination yesterday reported that all three were in poor shape. This he said was true especially of two of them and to continue their use meant an immediate and large expenditure for repairs.

Some weeks ago as previously mentioned seven flues were burned out and after these were replaced the expansion on the new flues was so much greater than on the old that the whole boiler has begun to deteriorate. The inspection revealed that the flues in boiler No. 1 are so thin that it will not be until they are in the same condition as in boiler No. 1 and boiler No. 3 is not much better. The estimated cost of repairs was $2,000, that in view of all the discussion with reference to the fire truck and because of the seeming emergency in light plant equipment that he was willing to postpone indefinitely the fire truck proposition.

Mr. Knollenberg and Mr. Newman expressed the opinion that in view of the boiler inspector's report it seemed the course of wisdom to buy a new boiler and postpone the fire truck purchase.

Mayor Davis has already given his opinion in the same vein and after some further conversation it was agreed that action should be deferred on the fire truck purchase. Mr. Newman had suggested that in view of the bid of Wm. Newman, Jr., being the lowest that it seemed only fair to put the matter in some such form that if the council decided it was wise to go ahead with the purchase that the contract should be given to the low bidder as recommended by Mr. Engel.

It was the opinion of the mayor that it wouldn't be proper to enter into any contract of this kind as they couldn't bind their successors in office and there might some embarrassment result from it. Mr. Knollenberg said that commissioners could agree as individuals to this proposition; then Mayor Davis made the suggestion that the motion be that the matter be simply deferred and that it could be brought up at any time and the record would be just as it is now with reference to Mr. Newman's bid. Mr. Knollenberg made a motion that the city advertise for bids for a new boiler in accordance with the plans and specification on file in the office of Mr. Brennan and it was so ordered.

It is the understanding that the boiler to be purchased will be practically of the same type as that which is now being installed. The two, 300 h. p. tubular boilers the city will have ample power for doing all its own lighting and pumping. It is understood that one of the old boilers will be retained for possible emergency use but that the other two will be sold as soon as the new equipment is in working order.

Mr. Newman brought to attention the matter of placing boulevard lamps on East State street by special assessment and said that he thought this should be done while the street is being paved. Not only for the benefit of East State street but as an example to the entire city.

Mayor Davis said that he was opposed to forcing Boulevard lighting by special assessment especially on a street where the residents were paying at the same time. He thought that it would be better and less expensive to get the property owners to put in the lights by agreement.

Mr. Newman thought in this particular instance that some speedy action would result in some general good and possibly it would be wise for the city to do the construction work if the residents would pay for the equipment. Mr. Knollenberg said there was no money available for the work and if the city made this expenditure for East State street that the property owners on the north half of the east side of the square have already agreed to pay the construction cost of three lamps if the city will maintain and furnish the current.

Mr. Brennan said that was an equitable thing to do and that the city would have ample power and would be ready within a short time to supply the current and take care of as many boulevard lamps as the property owners will supply. Away from the square the construction cost will not be very large as the cable can be laid below the boulevard without expensive excavation work.

It was decided that Mr. Newman and Mr. Brennan are to see East State street property owners with a view to arranging for lamps there by agreement.

CHAPIN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

You should hear of the Senior splurge that was given at the home of Glenna Bridgman, April 14. We were all there excepting Carl and nobody knows why he wasn't, unless it was that he was having, already, spent two hours on geometry, wash-cup dishes for his mother while his sister, Maye, worked on algebra. Nevertheless, the remaining eleven in a march resembling the Fourth infantry, went tramping to Glenna's home at 6 o'clock, though it might have been a few minutes before 6, it wasn't at all because we were hungry.

But here I wish to announce publicly that the love lorn, prostrating Fletcher Mathers, who was not able to face the darts of night when invited to Florence Smith's, was present at this occasion, with beaming face, glowing necktie, and "porcupine" pompadour. Fletcher had fit the fight and fought to come, after having milled four cows, older Fletcher, his lot is such a happy one! But let me narrate at 8 o'clock.

The dining room was decorated in the class colors, cerise and old gold, and the table was loaded with good things to eat, with a vase of carnations in the center. The table fairly howled at the approaching hoofs, and sounds of "Tramp, tramp the seniors are marching; cheer up potato chips, you'll soon be gone," and we will have to admit that they were "gone" and we will have to admit that they were gone in a very short time.

Well, when we had finished, we felt like a square peg in a round hole and just as we were to leave the sorry looking empty dishes, the hostess kindly passed around the vase of carnations and as a bunch of crusaders we passed into the parlor, with tall carnations floating, of sweet meaning reds. The class poet, assisted by the pianist, Gertrude Onken, pulled off some flowery songs, including "Flip Flop, She Flipped," and "The Little April Fool," the latter being the latest composition by said poet and songster.

The kodak pictures were raw sacked and amid music and laughter Alma Brockhouse was heard telling past experiences and anecdotes. Leila was quiet and solemn, because a certain "homo" was not there at her side instead of Hallie. Margaret sang a cunning little ditty, though full of real meaning, and Glenna played beautifully on the piano, both of which were "upraisingly" applauded.

At half past ten Fletcher started his Reo and with, "Gee, we've had the most fun," we jerked off with a puff and were taken to our respective abodes in the thirty horse power motor.

Class poet, Isabelle Fox. The commencement exercises of Chapin high school will be held May 8 in the M. P. church. The baccalaureate services will be held May 3, in the Christian church.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OPENS New York, April 21.—The season of the International baseball league which was opened today with games in four cities, is expected to develop some interesting doings before the umpires call their last "out" on the wind up day at the end of September. In two cities of the circuit, Buffalo and Baltimore, the league is to have the opposition the Federals. These are two of the strongest cities of the organization and the results of the invasion of the Federals will be watched with close interest.

The International starts the season with very few changes since last year. The managerial roster remains the same with the exception that Larry Schafly has relinquished the helm at Jersey City to become pilot for the Buffalo club in the Federal league. Rudy Hulswitt has succeeded Schafly at Jersey City.

In the inaugural festivities today the Toronto team plays at Providence, Baltimore entertains the Buffalo team, Montreal lines up at Jersey City and Rochester meets the Newark champions in Newark. The league schedule provides for a season of 154 games, with September 27 as the closing date.

HAVE NEW PASTOR. Rev. A. W. Judd has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Union Baptist church near Pisgah and will reside in the city. He was here yesterday looking for a suitable house.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERERS Takes Druggists' Advice With Splendid Result.

It any one should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it every day in the week and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Ulline of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had a severe attack and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite and I am as strong as ever. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs, or who are run-down to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient in such cases.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not.—Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

P. S.—Stop scratching, our Saxe Salve stops itching. We guarantee it.

Ausemus.

At his home in Cherokee, Kans., on April 12, 1914, occurred the death of A. J. Ausemus, who was born and reared in Morgan county. His death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. On Sunday morning he attended services at the M. E. church and assisted in the burial services in honor of a comrade of the G. A. R. in the afternoon. Soon after returning home he was stricken and remained unconscious to death, a few hours later.

Mr. Ausemus was a son of Philip and Deida Ausemus, pioneer settlers of this county, and was born at the homestead, northwest of Jacksonville, Dec. 30, 1842.

He was married to Lucinda Henderson, March 11, 1862. They moved to Kansas in 1885. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in Co. A of the 68th regiment of Illinois volunteers, U. S. infantry, and served till the disbanding of the regiment.

He was an active member of the M. E. church for 45 years, a Mason, a Woodman and chaplain of the local post of the G. A. R.

Besides many sorrowing relatives and friends, he is survived by his wife and the following children: Charles H., a teacher in this county; Miss Emma, a teacher in the Chicago schools, and James E. and Olive of Cherokee. Also by one brother, John B. of Chandler, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. James Solomon of Iola, Kans., and Mrs. Richard Standley of this city.

Howard.

Mrs. Alexander Howard of 304 South Main street died Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, after an illness of several months duration. She had been in bad health about two years, but did not become seriously ill until the early part of last winter. The passing of Mrs. Howard will be noted with regret as she was born and reared in Jacksonville and possessed a large number of friends. She was born Feb. 22, 1850 and was the daughter of Charles and Mary Henderson.

The deceased is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Harry Fries of St. Louis. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Harry Platt of this city and two sons, Carl B. of Jacksonville and Fred R. Howard of Monmouth. Her nephews are Earl M. Henderson and Wilbur Myers, both of Jacksonville, Charles Myers of St. Louis and John M. Myers of San Antonio, Tex. There are two grandchildren, Miss Ruth Platt of this city and Raymond Howard of Monmouth.

Mrs. Howard united with the Methodist church early in life and was at the time of her death a member of Centenary M. E. church. She lived a devoted Christian life and was noted for her constant devotion to her home and family.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence on South Main street, in charge of the Rev. F. A. McCarty. Interment will be made in East cemetery.

Skinner.

Mrs. Emma Skinner died Tuesday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at her home, 853 South East street, after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Skinner, whose maiden name was Emma Scott, was a daughter of Michael and Ann Scott, and was born in Carrollton, Ill., August 1, 1856. She was married to George V. Skinner at Carrollton, August 5, 1875, and is survived by her husband and the following children: Beverly C., Harry O., Robert L., Mabel A., and Glenn E. Skinner; also one brother, George W. Scott of this city. She was preceded in death by two brothers, Henry and Charles M. Scott. Mrs. Skinner was a member of Central Christian church and of Iona Council D. of Pochontas. She had a wide circle of friends, who will extend their sympathy to the members of the family.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Patterson.

Relatives in the city received word Tuesday announcing the death of Comrade Patterson, who passed away at his home in Kansas City Tuesday.

Comrad Patterson was a son of Oneal Patterson and was reared in the Pisgah church neighborhood, east of the city. During the Civil War, as a young man, he enlisted in Co. M, Ill. Inf., a company raised by Captain F. L. Moore and Lieutenant T. B. Orer, known as the Pisgah church company. He served through the Atlantic campaign and marched to the sea with Sherman. Mr. Patterson was a jolly, brave and cheerful comrade, a man who will be missed by his many loving friends.

After the war he took up the carpenter's trade and later moved to Kansas City where he was a successful builder and contractor. He was married to Ann Welborn of Orleans who survives him. He was a brother of Mrs. Elizabeth Waggoner of Prospect street.

Merrill.

Brief mention was made yesterday morning of the death of Mrs. Benson H. Merrill, which occurred at 1:45 o'clock Tuesday morning at her home. Death was due to a complication of diseases which finally resulted in a slight stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Merrill was born in Seneca Falls, New York, Feb. 27, 1840, and her maiden name was Mary E. Smith. She received a good education in the excellent schools of her native city and grew to young womanhood there.

In 1859 she went to Missouri to visit friends and while there met Benson H. Merrill and they were married at Shelbyville, Missouri, Jan. 10th, 1860. They for some time lived in that state and removed to Illinois in 1871.

As Illinois residents Mr. and Mrs. Merrill first had a farm home near Chapin and nearly twenty years ago moved to Jacksonville and their residence practically all of that time has been at the present family home. Mrs. Merrill leaves her husband, two sons, George L. and James E. Merrill, and one daughter, Mrs. Ford Mathew, all of Jacksonville; one granddaughter and four grandsons.

Soon after coming to Jacksonville Mrs. Merrill became a member of the Congregational church and took an active interest in the various activities of the church as long as her health would permit. To her home and the church represented the largest interest of life and her marked devotion to both gave strong evidence of the breadth and depth of her Christian character. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence on West College avenue with services in charge of Dr. R. O. Post.

MATRIMONIAL

Cook-Carrigan.

Wiley Cook and Miss Margaret Carrigan were married Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior, Very Rev. J. W. Crowe, officiating. Nuptial high mass was said. They were attended by Miss Nellie DeLaney and Leo Carrigan, a brother of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white voile trimmed in hand embroidered lace and a wreath of lilies of the valley. She wore a white veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bride's maid wore shadow lace, a Persian cap of pink and white set with pearl ornaments and carried pink and white roses. The bride is a daughter of Edward Carrigan of this city and is an accomplished young lady, who by her charming manner has won a host of friends, who will unite in wishing her a happy married life. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Cook of this city and is a prosperous young farmer, who is respected by all who know him.

Immediately after the ceremony a three course wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister on East College avenue. The home was prettily decorated in the wedding colors, pink and white.

Loneragan-Tarzwel.

The marriage of Mr. J. C. Loneragan and Miss Emma Tarzwel took place Tuesday morning at 8:45 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior, Rev. Father Formaz, celebrating nuptial high mass. The attendants were Miss Alice Loneragan, a sister of the groom and Mr. Frank Tarzwel, a brother of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and all over lace, a veil, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore a pink dress and carried white and pink roses.

Both young people come from well known families. They received their education in the rural schools and both took a course in Brown's Business college. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tarzwel and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Loneragan. They were the recipients of a number of beautiful gifts. They expect to make their home on a farm east of Woodson.

Were Given Reception.

A reception was given last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tarzwel, southwest of the city in honor of the newlyweds, which was largely attended. The evening was spent in dancing, music being furnished by Messrs. Charles Eader and Lee Wolke. Elaborate refreshments were served and the hours proved most delightful.

AT THE GRAND.

The Grand Theatre played to one of the largest houses of their engagement last night for the opening of "What would you do" and the large attendance was well deserved as it is the best show that they have presented so far. Manager Boyd produced the play himself and gave his many friends no little surprise by appearing in the principal role. The balance of the cast was up to the usual standard set by these actors. The company offers something new for the last half in "The First Rehearsal" which holds the boards starting Thursday.

Badger, commander in Chief of the Atlantic fleet who was speeding toward this port with five warships.
Admiral Fletcher decided to take action and marines began leaving the side of the transport Prairie shortly before eleven o'clock. They entered ten whale boats and effected a landing within half an hour at the customs house and number four pier,
which extends almost from the center of the shore line into the port and terminal works.

Information that President Huerta was counting on receiving from the Steamer Ypiranga, of the Hamburg-American line which was due to arrive today a big consignment of ammunition, rifles and machine guns,
was responsible for the occupation of the custom house somewhat earlier than might otherwise have been the case. The Ypiranga is still outside the harbor. She has on board among other supplies 10,000 rifles
and 15,000,000 cartridges.

President Huerta has been making every effort to safeguard this consignment and had given orders that it be unloaded and immediately placed on a special train drawn by two locomotives and rushed to the capital.

Asks Federals to Surrender.

With all the eastern side of the city occupied and also the tracks of the railway as far west as the roundhouse near the western edge of the northern side and with the Mexicans unable to do more than keep up an annoying but ineffective fire from house tops, Captain Rush at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon sent under a flag of truce a messenger chosen from among the natives to General Maas or whoever happened to be in command to ask if he was not ready to surrender.

It was learned that unless the Mexicans yielded Captain Rush had his choice of continuing the fighting
under the tactics he was using or of changing all positions or of calling on the warships for a bombardment.

Captain Rush was loath to resort to a bombardment and on the other hand did not desire to lose any more of his men by charges. He recognized that the tactics of the Mexicans might leave the house tops fighters in their position indefinitely
and that it was not impossible that those who are shooting from the roofs might be reinforced by others of their kind during the night.

The messenger was told to remand

General Maas that while they were on shore at that time a few more than 1,000 men, there would be available for the American forces
by morning some 10,000. It was left to General Maas to draw his own inference from this message.

Mexicans Use No Cannon.

There was no cannon firing from the Mexican side and it is supposed their artillery pieces were taken from the city, early in the day.
With the exception of a few shots from the light field pieces of the bluejackets and a few from the Prairie it was a contest of rifles.

Bravery was shown everywhere among the Americans. The youngsters wearing the bluejackets of their vessels behaved as well under fire as the marines, who along the lines comforted themselves
like veterans.

Some of the marines had seen service before in Central America and other places. In the earlier part of the engagement small detachments of the Americans who were guarding the approaches to the central part of the city stood without flinching while bullets from the rifles of the Mexicans sang about their ears.

Captain Rush supplemented his wig-wag system of communication with Rear-Admiral Fletcher as soon as he landed by radio operated from the roof of the Terminal Hotel.

Admiral Fletcher was kept constantly advised of the operations and in turn reported to Rear-Admiral Badger, who was off shore and whose reinforcements would bring the available number of men up to 10,000.

Reluctant to Shell Town.

Captain Rush was reluctant to take action, which he knew would result in loss of life to his men and possibly non-combatants. While the machine guns played their music
and the rifle fire added to the din,
he remarked to the newspaper men
his deep regret at the resistance of the Mexicans and expressed the hope that they would not persist until he had to call on the ships' guns
for a bombardment.

"It would be too bad, too bad,"
he said, "to shoot up this town. I hope I will not have to do it."

The fiercest fighting occurred an hour or two after the opening shots.
For a time the rifle and machine gun fire gave the people of Vera Cruz and the foreign refugees
aboard the steamers in the harbor more thrills than most of them had ever had.

There was no changing of forces to add to the dramatic action, but the spirited manner in which the marines and bluejackets held their ground and firing, at will, cracked back at the enemy, gave a thrill enough. A large percentage of these marines wore across the dun-colored shirts one or all three bars indicating marksmanship and they were practicing many of them for the first time, at living targets.

Like the Mexicans, the Americans
also took advantage of the roofs.
The top of the Terminal station afforded an excellent position for sharpshooters. There naturally drew a return fire and it was there that two men were wounded. Both of them had been detailed on signal work.

The liveliest separate action of the day was that at the custom house and the water front adjacent. Mexicans had been sending across from the buildings nearby an ugly and scattering fire and the American riflemen ashore had great difficulty in dislodging them. A little flotilla of launches, each carrying a one pounder in the stern advanced under the cover of the Prairie's three inch guns. The one pounders dug vigorously into the positions and shells from the three inch guns finished the work nicely. There was no more trouble from that quarter.

SPRINGFIELD PRESBYTERY OPENED SESSIONS TUESDAY

Organization of Churchmen is Meeting at Westminster—Sermon Preached Last Night By Dr. S. M.
Morton, Moderator—Business Sessions to Be Held Today.

The presbytery of Springfield met yesterday evening at Westminster church with a good attendance of both ministers and laymen.

After devotional exercises Rev. S.
M. Morton of Taylorville, the retiring moderator, delivered the opening sermon taking for his text, Jer.
6:16, "Thus saith the Lord; stand ye in the ways and see and ask for the old paths, where is the good way
and walk therein and ye shall find rest to your souls."

The sermon was a powerful effort, a plea for the faith once delivered to the saints. At the present time there is too much departure from the old paths; too much seeking after new doctrines; too much emphasis laid on the scientific and too little on the spiritual and all tends to a lessening of the spiritual force and power of the church and life we are to accomplish the greatest good in the kingdom of the Lord it is essential that we go forth with a message with no uncertain sound. It is a firm conviction and not negations that win men's souls and hence the need for the doctrines which have stood the test of the ages.

Although Dr. Morton is well high four score and is not now in active work it may be said of him as of Moses: "His eye is not dim nor his natural force abated." His hair is a little more silvery than it was when he was pastor of Westminster church but aside from that he shows but little of the advancing years.

At the close of the sermon the presbytery gave its attention to the business of the occasion.

Rev. A. W. Denney of Stoughton was received from the presbytery of Mattoon.

Rev. Elmer J. Boucher of the Sangamon Bottom church was received from the presbytery of Peoria.

A committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the late Dr. W. J. Tappel and the members were Dr. A. B. Moray, Dr. W. H. Penhallegon of Decatur
and Rev. C. A. King of Divernon.

W. R. Creamens, a licentiate, was dismissed as he has received a call to the church at Morrison.

Rev. E. L. Lord, D. D. Mason
City, was chosen moderator.

Rev. Elisha Safford of Decatur, was chosen temporary clerk.
The program as published in the Journal Sunday morning will be carried out today practically. At 11:30 a recess will be taken and presbytery will adjourn to Illinois college and unite in public exercises and at twelve will adjourn to the residence of President Rammelkamp
and enjoy luncheon.

At 1:30 p. m., presbytery will again be called to order and proceed with business.

Among the important matters will be the appointment of committees
on bills and overtures; judicial business; revision of committees and leave of absence. Papers will be referred and reports of permanent committees will be received.

Candidates for the ministry will be examined and commissioners to the general assembly will be chosen.

The place for the next meeting will be decided, permanent clerk
chosen, committee on revision chosen and various other matters of importance will be considered.

Notes.
The oldest member of the presbytery, though not present, is Rev.
Calvin Keown of Lincoln. Following him in the order named are Dr.
Henry Onyett, Decatur, Dr. A. B.
Morey of Jacksonville, Rev. Nathan
N. Baker of Decatur, Rev. John O.
Hough of Jacksonville and Dr. S.
M. Morton of Taylorville.

Of our Mr. Spoonville it may be said as of Saul: "From his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people."

The good people of Westminster church have shown kindly hospitality and have taken good care of their visitors.

An interested elder is George H.
Brown of Divernon. The gentleman is a former student of Illinois college but has not been here for some years.

Dr. Davis, pastor of Westminster church, and his people make admirable local managers and everything is working smoothly.

Much sympathy is expressed for
Dr. Morton whose talented son died recently.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors
for their many kindnesses and sympathy during the illness and after the death of our father, E. R. Spon-ber, and also for the beautiful flowers received.

Catherine Sieber and Children.

VISITORS AT J. H. S.

Mrs. Lawrence Coleman of Palmyra, a former student of the High school was a visitor at J. H. S. yesterday. She inspected the domestic science department. The Palmyra school has recently been enlarged to a full four year course and the school board expects to give a course in domestic science. Mrs. Coleman was much impressed with the work being done here.

A Very Hearty

Reception

Although our Delicatessen department is but three days old it is not too early to mention with what a hearty response the announcement of the department ment. We have found that there are many Jacksonville people who long wished that there was some place here where they could buy a salad, sliced roast beef, and tongue, pies or cakes, products just like those of a home kitchen.

We are using the very best materials in all of our cookery, are selling in quantities of any size and are asking only such prices as will give us a fair margin of profit. Again, we say, whether you wish to buy or not come in and see our kitchen and our display cases.
